GENERAL INFORMATION

PROHIBITIONS

No purchase may be made by a person under 21 years of age, nor by an interdicted person, nor by a person prohibited by conviction under The Liquor Act.

A person convicted for an offence against sections 82, 91, 97, 98, 109, or 120 of The Liquor Act is prohibited from purchasing liquor for a period of two years from the date of conviction.

A person who purchases liquor under a name or address other than his own, or under a fictitious name or address, is liable to a penalty of not less than $25.00 nor more than $50.00 and in default of payment to imprisonment for not less than 15 days or more than 30 days.

One person cannot order for another, nor can one person take delivery at a store of goods purchased by another.

PURCHASES

Subject to the above prohibitions, purchases may be made in person at a Liquor Board store, a Special Liquor Vendor store, or by mail. A person desiring to make a purchase of liquor must make out a customer's order form stating brand number, brand name, number of units and price of liquor desired to be purchased, and sign the order form giving his surname, initials and address. Purchases must be paid for in cash.

While each store carries a considerable assortment of the spirituous liquors and wines which appear on this price list, all of the brands listed are not always available.

HOLIDAYS

Liquor Board Stores and Beer Storages will not be open on the following days:

Sundays	Dominion Day	Christmas Day
New Year's Day	Labour Day	Boxing Day
Good Friday	Thanksgiving Day	Election Days
Victoria Day	Remembrance Day	Civic Holidays

MAIL ORDERS

The Board will pay rail and bus charges on mail orders totalling $3.00 and over. Orders under $3.00 will be shipped express charges "Collect".

Mail orders must be accompanied by a money order, postal note or cash to cover the total cost of the order (cheques and stamps not accepted). Cash remittances should be registered. In the event that a brand ordered is out of stock, another brand will be substituted which most nearly approximates in price the one ordered.

Goods ordered by mail will be forwarded by express to the point nearest to the address of the purchaser at which there is an express agent.

MAIL ORDER STORES

Mail orders should be addressed "Mail Order, Liquor Board Store" and then add the name of the nearest Liquor Board Store from the following list. Note that stores marked with a star (*) do not fill mail orders.

GENERAL WINE INFORMATION

Wines may be grouped according to their use, under five main headings:

1. Appetizer Wines — Dry Sherries, Vermouths and Tonic Wines. Serve before meals as an appetizer.
2. Red Table Wines — Red Bordeaux (Claret), Red Burgundy, Chianti, Santa Maddelena, Barolo, Canadian Claret and Burgundy types. Australian Claret and Burgundy types. Usually quite dry (not sweet in taste) and most suitable when served at room temperature with red meat, game, cheese and highly seasoned foods.
3. White Table Wines — White Bordeaux (which includes Sauternes), white Burgundy, Soave, Rhine Wines, Canadian white wines including Sauternes and Riesling. These wines vary from dry (medium tart) to sweet, and should be served chilled. They blend best with seafood, white meats and dessert.
4. Dessert Wines — Port, Sweet Sherry, Muscatel, Canadian Port and Sherry, Australian Port and Sherry, South African Port and Sherry, ranging from sweet to very sweet. Usually served at room temperature with dessert.
5. Sparkling and Crackling Wines — Champagne, Anjou, Sparkling Burgundy, Crackling Rose and other similar wines. Serve chilled before or during the meal.

Generally speaking Sparkling and Table Wines contain less than 14% Alcohol by volume, and will not keep for long periods after being opened.

Appetizer and Dessert Wines, usually being fortified with grape spirit, contain more than 14% Alcohol by volume and keep quite well after being opened.

Vintage and other wines may deposit a sediment in the bottle due to the natural process of aging. Such wines should be handled carefully and poured so as not to disturb the sediment.

Wines keep best if stored in a cool, dry place. If bottles sealed with a cork are being stored for any considerable time, place flat on the shelf to keep the cork damp.

GENERAL BEER INFORMATION

"Beer" is a general term covering all kinds of fermented malt beverages but is usually specifically applied to lager beer to distinguish it from ale.

In this Price List lager beer, ale and stout produced by the Saskatchewan breweries appears under the heading "Domestic Beers."

Lager beer is a light-bodied, sparkling, effervescent beverage of pale to dark color, brewed by a bottom fermentation process from barley malt, corn or rice, hops and water.

Ale is beer made from malt, or malt and adjuncts, with a pronounced hop aroma and flavor. It is fermented by yeast of the top fermentation type which adds a distinctive character to the beverage.

Stout is of very dark color, has a strong malt flavour and a sweet taste; and possesses a strong hop character.

Beer is a perishable product and while bottled beer is pasteurized so that it may be kept for a longer period, certain precautions must be taken so as not to impair its aroma and flavor.

The following suggestions are offered:

Keep beer in a cool, dark place. It should be stored upright. Never allow it to be exposed to daylight for any length of time, since exposure to light can harm beer's fine, delicate flavor.

Beer must be protected from frost since freezing destroys the flavor and gives beer a cloudy appearance.

To ensure a clear, crisp taste and full aroma, serve beer at a temperature of 40 to 45 degrees. Beer is best served in glasses which are rinsed in clear cold water immediately prior to serving.

LIQUOR 'STRENGTH' CHART

(All Decimal Points are omitted.)

'PROOF'

The buying public, at large, find this subject of 'proof' very confusing. Actually 'proof' is an abbreviation of the term 'proof-spirit' which merely means 'a mixture of alcohol and distilled water' which, without going into technical descriptive details, contains 57% alcohol and 43% water.

The British and Canadian system of establishing 'proof' is based on specific gravity (or weight) and, as alcohol is lighter than water, it requires some 57 parts of alcohol to weigh as much as 43 equal parts of water. On the Sykes scale, 'proof' is set at 100, thus 30 underproof contains 40% alcohol — as indicated on the above chart. Actually, in Canada nearly all 'distilled spirits', (Rye, Gin, Rum, Scotch, etc.) are 30 U.P. Liqueurs (Apricot Brandy, etc.) are somewhat weaker due to the fruit flavours in this type of beverage.

Re U.S.A. proof, the Americans do not use 'weight' in establishing their proof; they simply use volume. That is, their proof is a mixture of alcohol and water containing 50% alcohol and 50% water. Thus the alcoholic strength of their 'proof' is weaker than ours; in fact, as shown on the above scale, it takes a (U.S.A.) 80 proof to equal our 70 proof.

Finally, the general terminology re 'proof' differs in each country. Canadians invariably refer to a spirit as 30 under proof or 30 over proof. The Americans never specify 'under' or 'over'; they simply refer to the beverage as a percentage of their proof, for example 70 proof, 100 proof, 130 proof, etc.
